

PHOTOS BY DABNEY CORTINA

McLean Woman's Club members Margaret Roberts, Joan Morton, Nancy Weekly and Bea Sommovigo with MPA Board President Kitty Gonzalez, second from right.

MPA Promotes Youth Art

Middle and high school exhibit opens Thursday.

As part of the Youth Art Show, middle and high school students from McLean area public schools will exhibit their artwork at the MPA galleries. The exhibition runs through April 4.

On Sunday, March 14, MPA hosted an opening reception for the elementary school exhibition sponsored by the Woman's Club of McLean. More than 500 people came to see the artwork on display and have refreshments.

McLean Project for the Arts is located at 1234 Ingleside Ave. in the McLean Community Center. For more information, call 703-790-1953 or visit www.mpaart.org. To see more pictures from the opening, visit McLean Project for the Arts' Facebook page.

Fairfax County Public Schools art teachers Betty Bott (Chesterbrook), Michelle Goettke (Franklin Sherman), Mickey Westbrook (Westgate), Kim Norton (Lemon Road), Jen Whiteman (Churchill Road) and Lida Saeedian (Kent Gardens).

Chesterbrook Elementary School second graders, Marguerite and Hannah, pose below Marguerite's drawing of 'Best Friends Forever.'

Churchill Road Elementary School art teacher Jen Whiteman with twins Jonathan and Douglas Palumbo.

